Student Talent Livens Party At Corona Del Mar

Journeying to the sands of Corona Del Mar, nearly 150 students and teachers of the Santa Ana junior college participated in the annual picnic held last Friday afternoon and evening. The caravan left the junior college at 4:30 p. m. for the beach.

College yells, songs, stickers and sweaters enlivened the affair and everyone had a fine time. Sand football, baseball, swimming, surf board riding and other beach sports were enjoyed by the collegians before the supper and program that followed.

Raymond Gleasner, college student and owner of the "Pueblo", the only concession on the beach, donated the use of the clever building for headquarters. Those who assisted with the dinner were Miss Clara Kate Owens, social chairman; Miss Florence Brownridge, Miss Ada Marie Hendrickson, Miss Margaret Whitson and Miss Ellen Sneyley.

A huge bonfire was built on the beach before the program started. Dean McKee Fisk led the students in a half hour of singing, after which dinner was eaten. An entertainment program of short skits and readings was given by students from various towns. Santa Ana opened the program with a play in pantomime, "The Lamp Went Out", played by Carol Bertolet, William Schooling, Miss Marjorie Adams, Miss Ada Marie Hendrickson and Miss Agnes McKinstry. Other skits were given by Orange, Anaheim, Tustin students.

Arthur Beddoes, accompanied by Miss Agness McKinstry on the ukelele sang several songs.

Mrs. Robert Northcross and Miss Agness Todd Miller were on the reception committee, assisted by Miss Clara Kate Owens. Committees for the affair included transportation, Delmer Brown; fire permit and concession, Raymond Gleasner; advertising, Kenneth Tanaka; program, Warren Schultz, Anaheim; Miss Helen Lee, Orange; Miss Emma Williams, Tustin; Miss Ada Marie Hendrickson, Santa Ana; Bill Crawford, wood; Miss Florence Brownridge, Miss Ada Marie Hendrickson and Miss Margaret Whitson, refreshments, and Miss Clara Kate Owens, social commissioner.

Y Executive Cabinet Heads Hold Meeting

The cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. held a very interesting meeting Wednesday evening. The girls first went to the Orange county park for a picnic supper. After the supper the girls went to the home of Frances Harper, the president. The business meeting was held there and plans were made for the first club meeting which will be held on Oct. 2.

The Y. W. C. A., under the leadership of Mrs. Tessmann, Miss Leck, Miss Whiting, and Miss Cartwright, has a very good cabinet this year and intends to accomplish a great deal. All girls are invited to become members.

Don's Daily

The Don's Daily which makes its first appearance this week, is a new experiment by the journalism class, under the direction of U. Grant B. Meyer, instructor. This bulletin will be published daily, and is for the purpose of informing the students of the happenings of the day. It will be placed at the entrance of college hall, before the first class in the morning, for the convenience of the students.

A journalism student will take charge each week, and will be relieved of his other assignments during the week. Miss Miriam Samuelson has charge for the first week, and requests that all announcements be in the Associated Students office by one o'clock, for the following day.

J. C. Enrollment To Reach 500 Mark

Today 428 students are enrolled in Santa Ana junior college. The beginning weeks of school 372 students registered, and now we are able to boast 56 more. This number exceeds by far the previous record, and shows marked advancement in our school. Of the 428 students there are 230 freshmen; 132 sophomores; 9 post graduates; and 57 special students. Keep it up J. C. You're becoming a big institution.

Junior Lions Hold Business Meeting

At the first meeting of the Junior Lions, ten new prospective members were present, along with ten old members, and three senior Lions.

Bill Cook, the faculty advisor, also the football mentor, gave a short interesting talk on football. Prospects for a winning team, according to Bill, are rather bright, but they will need all the support possible from the students. Coach Cook also brought out some of the fine points on how the Dons won the Chaffee game.

Dr. Rowland of the senior Lions club also gave a short talk. The keynote of his talk was that "We must have ideals, and live up to them in high school, college, and after life. Leonard Morris was to describe China to the club, but sent word through Willard White that he would be unable to attend due to sickness.

Felix Garnes called a short business meeting yesterday to settle some of the business for the year.

New Ruling Made By J. C. Executive Board

Those members of the Executive Board who are usually late will have to be more promptly, as it was decided at the Executive Board meeting held September 19, to fine one cent a minute up to thirty-five for tardiness and fifty cents for absences without a legitimate excuse.

New Date Set For Frosh-Soph Dance

In an interview with Baxter Geeting, president of the sophomore class, it was learned that the annual freshman-sophomore dance will be held the evening of September 19, at the Santa Ana Country club.

The time set for the festivities to begin is 8:30 p. m. According to Mr. Geeting, the fastest and peppiest orchestra in Southern California will be there with a new selection of hot numbers. The entertainment at the dance will be something entirely new for the Santa Ana junior college. Mr. Geeting assumed a very mysterious air when closely questioned as to the exact nature of his plans, but promised to make interesting disclosures for the next issue of the Don.

Freshmen will be admitted free to the dance, providing they are clad in their "beanies".

Mr. Geeting said that any freshman seeking admittance without his "beanie" will be fined fifty cents. The admission charge for sophomores will be fifty cents per man.

Financial Outlook Bright For Yearbook

Frank Mansur has been appointed as business manager for the 1929 Algor, it was learned from Lavenia Compton, editor. Last year he did exceptionally well as business manager of the Santa Ana high school Ariel.

Many good positions are still open especially for boys.

The position of assistant editor is still open. Anyone may get these.

Actual work is to begin immediately, and the staff will be chosen this week. The editor and the business manager are already very busy forming plans for this years work. Miss Compton stated that the motif has already been chosen, but it is to be kept secret.

We're going to put out the best Algor yet—but don't forget those vacant positions.

Y. W. C. A. Plans For Year Formulated

The Y. W. C. A. has a very interesting program planned for the coming year. The members set their goal at a membership of one hundred and are doing their best to attain this. Their purpose is to promote a feeling of fellowship between all girls. The Y. W. C. A. will try and accomplish this through their regular meetings. These meetings are held twice a month and are in the form of pot luck suppers followed by speeches, discussions, or good times.

The first meeting of the year will be a pot luck supper for the freshmen. This will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 2, at 6 o'clock in the "Y" Hut. At this meeting Mrs. Tessmann will give the history of the Y. W. C. A. at S. A. J. C.

The Y. W. C. A. holds an impressive candle-lighting ceremony each semester. They are also planning to have a retreat at Camp Lewis each semester this year.

Popularity Contest

Interest in the Don Popularity Contest is increasing daily as more votes come in and more candidates are entered into the race.

The Don is sponsoring this contest in conjunction with the Stein Stationery stores, which are offering the prizes. Votes are secured each week in the Don and also at the Stein stores. A handsome pen and pencil set is offered to the winning boy and girl.

Votes may be deposited in the ballot box in the main hall, in the Don office or at either Stein store.

The standings are as follows: Bob Chapman, 11; Baxter Geeting, 9; Stewart McPherson, 7; Herold Hylton, 9; George Warner, 8 votes.

Girls—Dorothy Harman, 6; Mildred Staples, 10; Lavenia Compton, 7; Clara Kate Owens, 5 votes.

Bachelors Aim To Promote Fellowship

With an aim of promoting fellowship, friendliness, and good will, the Brotherhood of Bachelors have organized for the coming year. This is a very select group of boys.

At the beginning of each semester a number of boys are considered as candidates for membership. The candidates go through various tests for five weeks. If at the end of this time the Brotherhood decides the candidate is worthy, he is taken in as a full fledged Bachelor. Undesirable candidates are just merely dropped.

During the school year the brotherhood promotes various functions. The Bachelors ball, which is put on during the first semester, is one of the highlights of the school year. Parties of various kinds, and dances are also put on during the year.

The officers are: Grand Exalted Bachelor, Chet Page; Senior Exalted Bachelor, Joe Warner; Keeper of the Write, Ernest Stump; treasurer, Ernest Stump.

New Human Behavior Course Now Offered

A new course in Human Behavior is offered under Gertrude Laws, assistant chief of the Bureau of Parental Education for the California Department of Education. This course is being offered for the first time in Santa Ana J. C. and was obtained through the courtesy of the board of education. The course deals particularly in human behavior as related to the growth and development of children.

The class meets at 9:50 on Thursday for two periods. Although the initial meeting was held last Thursday, Dean Fisk announced that those who still wish to enroll may do so either for credit, or to audit the course. Students doing this apply at the office today. This is an exceptional course and no junior college student who has the time should fail to take it.

Hammond Host To Club Presidents, Executive Board

Financial plans for the coming year and an outline of the program for all organizations in the Santa Ana junior college will be given next Wednesday in the high school cafeteria at 6 o'clock when the president of each club, members of the executive board and all club faculty advisors meet.

President D. K. Hammond is acting as host on this occasion and will preside. The banquet will precede the program, which will start between 6:30 and 7 o'clock. To get first hand information on the future plans of the organizations, the executive board and other authorities thought a meeting for all presidents would be best. Clubs that have not elected officers for this semester will be represented by those of last year.

Robert Chapman, Associated Students president, is also cooperating with Hammond for the affair. Wylie Carlyle, commissioner women's athletics, will represent the board in giving the financial program for the year regarding the student body. He will lay special emphasis upon athletics, it was learned today.

Among the clubs to be represented will be the Bachelors, Junior Lions, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Associated Women Students, Women Athletic Association, O. K. club, Press club, Beta Gamma, Honor Society, Shea Shell Social club, Chroma art club and language clubs.

Orange Am. Legion Opens Dance Season

The dancing season at the Orange American Legion hall opens this Saturday night, Oct. 5, making available for the coming season this luxurious ballroom which has in the past enjoyed popularity with the dancers of the county. The dancing floor is of specially selected hardwood, facilitating ease in dancing. Added to this basic attraction is the lure of the richly furnished foyer, colorful lighting effects and built-in orchestra shell.

The managers state that they are featuring "gifts to ladies and gentlemen" and surprise numbers for the opening night. Through the cooperation of the Orange merchants they have secured a list of handsome gifts, valued at $50 to be distributed this Saturday night. They have contracted with the popular Apache orchestra to furnish the music this season. This orchestra has been playing in this locality in past seasons and has a large following in Orange county.

It is the intention of the managers to furnish high-grade entertainment in a wholesome manner, in keeping with their slogan, "fun for all—all for fun."

Across The Street

There are still a number of cars parked across the street opposite the college although Dean Fisk has requested not to do so because of the city ordinance forbidding it. Many of the transgressors are high school students, however.

It is certainly unfortunate that the parking situation is as bad or worse than it was last year. A simple solution of the problem would be to park all high school cars on Parton or in front of the school—the only two logical places for them to park, anyway—while Ross street could be reserved for the college.

Whether the parking problem is left with no attempt for solution or not is no reason for breaking an ordinance by parking opposite the school. Let's be law-abiding, and if we don't like the law, kick about it—don't break the law.

Attend Assemblies

Assembly programs are arranged for college students. There is no excuse for cutting them, as no classes are conducted on Wednesday at this time. Interesting and entertaining programs fill the hour and it is well worthwhile to attend.

Students who do not make it a habit of attending assemblies lose the college spirit which unites the Dons and miss important announcements which are made there every week. DON'T FORGET TODAY'S ASSEMBLY.

The Don's Daily

The new daily bulletin, edited by Miriam Samuelson, is a step toward progress. Too much time, which would have been used for valuable programs; has been wasted in assemblies in the past on announcements.

Furthermore, it has been a hardship on students not to know the news from day to day.

Aims Of Beta Gamma Organization Told

The Beta Gamma club, organized in 1924, was organized for students of the Santa Ana junior college who are participants in extra-curricular activities.

The membership of the club is limited, both in the freshman and sophomore classes. Admittance to the Beta Gamma society is one of the highest honors to be bestowed upon a student by the Santa Ana junior college, as the names of prospective members are selected through investigation of academic standing.

Delmer Brown has been elected president of the club for the present year. Thus far no meetings have been called or arranged.

Print Shop Enrolls Nine New Students

Print shop has enrolled nine more students during the last week, according to Thomas E. Williams, print shop instructor. There is still room for several more boys to take this trade course and the work has not yet advanced so far that it cannot be made up.

Stationery for the Y. M. C. A. was printed for the first time. The paper is white with the officers and name of the organization in black and red. This is a great aid to the "Y" as it saves them much time and bother and also serves to advertise. About 1000 sheets were printed for the present with more to be printed later.

Frosh Beanies

"Hey, frosh, where's your beanie?" The inevitable question, the bane of a freshman's harassed life. But it's all in the swim, as Minnie Mackeral said as she slipped into her Cling Tite bathing suit. (Previous remark was quite unnecessary—Ye Editor). But to return, to the subject, whatever it may be.

Say freshies, don't it get your goat when you're ambling down the hall to have a dignified soph irritatingly inquire, "Hey, frosh, where's your beanie?" Only a small cap in the colors of the Alma Mater, but what a lot of trouble it can cause. About the time some fair frosh co-ed thinks she's making a big hit with the hero of the varsity football because he has been looking at her with such a searching, inquisitive start all through philosophy, zoology, and what not, he comes out of the fog only to inquire, "Frosh, where's your beanie?" The fair co-ed immediately wilts, and replies, "Well, it didn't match my dress so I left it at home." He-man comes back with a fast one. "Wear a coat, then, and don't let it happen again." Poor co-ed buries herself in ponderous volume and another budding romance is shattered. All of which brings us back to the previous beanie?

Sand And Bunk

Pass the mustard! Hey, stop shaking sand in the buns! Get off my feet, you big bum! Well, I wish you'd look at Chappie. He's got two sacks of potato chips in his pocket, and three hot dogs in his hand. These bachelors sure have large appetites. All of which refers to the big picnic at Corona Del Mar. Such excitement, more panic! And wait until the big ball game starts. Remember the time the home-run came down in the potato salad. It was foggy for a week after that.

These beach parties are more fun especially at this time of year. All the brave souls insist on going swimming and it can certainly be told when you talk to them later as they are sporting a cold in their nose in three different keys.

The speedway trials are underway. Lizzie is running a close second to a new Henrietta. Gr-umap-flap-flap and some more grumap. Lizzie slithers to a stop—another Sear's and Roebuck special gone to the bow-wows. The entire company evacuates the scene of distress. The casualties include a severe stomach ache, three sprained ankles and ten blunted appetites.

(Don't be angry, children, it's all in fun.)

"Oh, did you have a wreck and get cut with flying glass?"

"No, I was trying to read the motometer and stuck my head through the windshield."

Movie Attractions

"Smiling Irish Eyes" featuring that vivacious young actress, Colleen Moore, is the attraction now showing at the Fox Broadway. This picture is Miss Moore's first all-talking and singing Vitaphone picture and promises to provide an evening's entertainment. The star sings several songs in the production which were written especially for her.

The picture was filmed at great expense, the entire film having been photographed in outdoor locations. Miss Moore's speech is tinged with a soft brogue and her songs are sung with a true Irish lilt. James Hall, leading man, also sings several songs which add to the novelty of the production. If you enjoy Colleen Moore's acting and have a love of the Irish about you, this is the picture you should see.

Fox West Coast offers for the approval of the movie-goer a breezy and spicy comedy, "Hard To Get" starring Dorothy Mackaill. As in the current attraction at the Broadway, Ireland and Irish people are featured. An all-star cast including Louise Fazenda, Jack Oakie, and Charles Delaney supports Miss Mackaill.

In addition to the main picture, the management offers Fox Movietone News, Aesop's Fables, which are synchronized, and Clark and McCullough in a new all-talking comedy "Medicine Men."

"Will you have some pie, sir?"

"Is that essential?"

"No, just apple and pumpkin."

"No, Tommy, you can't have any cake. It's too heavy."

"No, mother, I can lift it."

Professor Marc C. Goodnow To Speak On Modern Journalism To Members Of Press Club At Meeting Friday Night

Plans are now being formulated by Carl Bergman, president, for the next meeting of the Junior College Press Club to be held next Friday, October 4, at 7:30 p. m. in the "Y" Hut. Election of the officers will be the principal feature of the evening. The president stated that a speaker, probably Marc Goodnow of U. S. G., will be procured in addition to other forms of entertainment. Invitations to the affair were issued the early part of this week. An entertainment committee, under the direction of Helen Hamilton and Alice Myers, has already been appointed.

Those eligible to attend the meeting are members of the Don and Al-gol staffs, the members of the journalism class and anyone interested in news writing.

The Press Club has had an enviable record during its organization and this year promises to be one of the most successful in the history of the club. It is planned to hold a meeting or party at least once a month. A Halloween party, to be held the last of October, is one of the interesting future events.

The personnel of the club officers will be changed at the meeting and the new faculty advisor, U. Grant B. Meyer, introduced. Mr. Meyer is new to Santa Ana junior college and to many of the members of the club. The opening period of the meeting will probably be spent in getting acquainted with new and old members.

Carl Bergman, president, has extended a cordial invitation to all new students who are interested in journalism to attend the first meeting of the club. Those intending to be present should sign the notice posted on the bulletin board in college hall.

T. H. Glenn To Speak At Literary Meeting

Activities in the junior college Literary club are scheduled to start with the first meeting of the year, Tuesday, Oct. 8, which will be held in the library at 7:30 p. m. Mr. Glenn has promised to furnish an account of some of the interesting experiences which marked his summer vacation trip to China and Japan. As an added attraction, he has also promised to show the club pictures which he collected on his trip.

Plans for the year will be discussed and a schedule of programs for this semester's meetings will be worked out. Plans will also be put in progress for this year's first issue of "The Tavern Post" which is to be printed quarterly. Last year's initial "Post" will be remembered as a remarkably fine publication, and it is hoped that the standard set by it may be not only be maintained but surpassed this year.

The Literary club, which meets the second and fourth Tuesday of each month, is a comparatively new organization having started only last year, with Mr. Glenn as its originator. The purpose of the organization as stated in the constitution is "to increase the interest and knowledge of all its members in worthy literature of all kinds." The following are members: Fred Humiston, president; Virginia Thomas, vice-president; Mary Ford, secretary and treasurer; Wylie Carlyle, Florence Caverly, Dorothy Harman, and Corinne Nelson.

Chroma Club Meeting Scheduled For Oct. 3

There are at least eleven courageous persons in junior college who are not afraid of being termed temperamental—they are the ones who have so far responded to the invitation to become members of the Chroma club which is the art organization of Santa Ana junior college. Interest in art is the main requirement for membership this semester.

At the first meeting of the club, held recently, plans for the years activities were discussed and a most unusually interesting program, which will include trips, creative work, talks and other items of interest, was outlined.

Thursday evening, Oct. 3, Miss Gilles, who is head of the art department and advisor of the Chroma club, will talk on the subject of "Batic". All of those who have signed up for membership in the organization, are invited to come to this meeting. The following members will be glad to welcome a few more in their number: Corinne Nelson, president; Goldie Peale, vice-president; Florence Brownridge, secretary and treasurer; Mary Louise Wallace, Mary Harlow, Lillie Danielson, Lillian McDonald, Ellen Snebley, Mildred Staples, Maybelle Ball, and Geraldine Cole.

"Y. M." Executive Committee Meets

The executive committee of the local Y. M. C. A. met at president George Warner's home to discuss plans for the coming year last Thursday.

A budget for the ensuing year was drawn up and adopted. Lawson Watson, chairman of the religious committee, submitted plans for a discussion group which would meet weekly at the school. Plans were also formulated for four "retreats" this year. These "retreats" consist of an excursion by the "Y" members back into the mountains where various questions and problems may be considered.

Representatives were chosen to attend the "Y" conference which was held at Camp Bethel, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 28-29. The "Y" is composed of many prominent students both scholastically and athletically.

Phoenix J. C. Here Saturday

Heavy Arizona Team Favored To Win Over Coach "Bill" Cook's Santa Ana Collegians In Intersectional Tilt

In the first intersectional game ever played in this city, "Bill" Cook's Santa Ana junior college eleven will battle Phoenix (Arizona) junior college next Saturday afternoon. It will be the Dons third and last practice tilt before tackling Coach Baker's highly touted Pasadena junior college eleven the following Saturday.

Little is known of the Arizona team, but from reports from the "Cactus" state, it is very probable that the Dons will be up against a big bunch of scrappy wildcats. It is also evident that the Dons will have to use a much stronger offense than heretofore displayed, or come out as previously with a 0 to 0 tie or on the short end of the count.

New hopes have come to the ranks of Coach Cook in the form of three Texans, all of whom have had at least three years of prep school experience. Manley, a 190 pound center with four years of high school playing will be welcome and is and one year of J. C. experience is destined to strengthen the center of the line considerably. Beard will also be a valuable addition and is slated to help out at an end position. Tease, who reported for practice earlier in the season and because of an illness was forced to quit, is back in a suit and ready to give the contenders a fight for quarterback position. Gene Olson former Santa Ana high school star has also reported after a lingering illness and will try for a backfield position. Natland, versatile quarter who was injured in the first play of the Chaffee game two weeks ago, will also be back in form.

Bill Crawford will no doubt get the call for the booting job with Joe Warner and Dutton as able assistants. "Bill" booted 'em far and high in the Trojan frosh game and seemed to do it easily. Warner and Dutton also did some good kicking. George Warner is again slated to call signals from his end berth.

J. C. Men's Tennis

With tennis season still far off, the J. C. racquet aspirants are already at work and visioning a championship year. Prospects are much brighter this year with two veterans and three ex-prep stars ready to answer for roll call. Chilson and McPherson from last years team and White, Ogglesby and Schuchardt comprise the present net squad.

Dons Hold U. S. C. Frosh To 0-0 Tie

Upsetting all former predictions, Coach "Bill" Cook's fighting Dons went to the Los Angeles coliseum and held the powerful and highly touted Southern California freshman horde to a 0-0 tie, in a curtain raiser to the U. S. C. and U. C. L. A. game.

It was a different story than it was in 1928 when the Trojans completely outshone and annihilated the Dons. This year the Dons at least played even-up ball and by many critics were given the edge over the galaxy of high school and prep stars which Troy has collected from everywhere.

with Schuchardt, Natland and Tanaka assisting him.

The probable line up will be as follows: Ed Adams and George Warner, ends; Captain Herold Hylton and Tim Wallace, tackles; Joe Warner and Bill Crawford, guards; Al Kluthe, center; Schuchardt or Natland, quarter; Beatty and Van Meter, Geeting or Drysdale at half; Manderscheid Dugdale Dutton fullback, where.

The Dons showed the greatest defensive power yet seen, several times holding the powerful Frosh for downs when a few inches were needed.

"Orv" Schuchardt did some classy ball toting and as soon as his interference learns to cut down the field instead of leading him across the field to the sidelines, he will give any opposition plenty of trouble. Dutton and Manderscheid did some good line plunging with Bill Crawford stealing the show from the Trojan kickers.

More Girls Needed In Basketball Team

Quite a number of girls have reported for basketball practice since Monday, which was the official opening day of the basketball season. Since then, four practices have taken place, and the girls are gradually getting into shape for the inter-class games.

For some unknown reason, this year not many girls have signed up for this sport. The freshmen, especially have very few candidates. In former years the frosh greatly exceeded the sophomores in numbers and it was with great surprise that the present result was viewed. Mrs. Foote is greatly disappointed with the turn out. All frosh candidates will be viewed with great favor—there is still time to turn out for basketball.
